

The product innovation EasyMount makes it easier to (de)mount anilox sleeves in your press. The adapters serve both as a mounting aid and as a protection of the sensitive edges against damage.

Features

- Recessed grip facilitates handling
- Protection of the sensitive edge areas from damage
- Protection against corrosive liquids through extended edge protection of the sleeve
- high quality anodized finish
- Color code enables optical identification
- Combinable with other Zecher technologies

Application notes

- The EasyMount mounting aid can be labeled with the serial number of your sleeve as well as the specifications.
- The EasyMount mounting aid is made of anodized aluminum. This provides protection against many external influences. When cleaning outside the press, the EasyMount must be removed.
